The University of Mississippi Medical Center offers equal opportunity in education and employment, M/F/D/V.

The University of Mississippi Medical Center serves as the state’s academic health center and has three interrelated missions: health professions education, health sciences research, and patient care. A system of committees exists to facilitate and guide the attainment of goals within these missions. Each committee has a specific charge and is empowered to fulfill that charge by the Vice Chancellor for Health Affairs.

The structure, membership, and function of these committees represent an institutional commitment to shared governance both across and within each mission area.

An “Institutional Committee” is defined as a group of appointed or elected individuals tasked to serve a specific function, composed of individuals representing differing points of view and different organizational components and constituencies. All institutional committees must have a name, chair, specific charge, abide by a formal committee charter and include representation from all mission areas (Academics, Research, Health System), or perform a function of institutional significance (accreditation, Joint Commission, IHL, federal regulations, etc.). All institutional subcommittees must report up to a parent institutional committee. All Institutional Committees have been reviewed and approved by the Committee on Institutional Committee Management.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

The charge is to oversee the design, management and evaluation of the educational program of the School of Medicine, through participation by faculty, students and administration. The curriculum committee is empowered by the dean to work in the best interests of the institution without regard for political or departmental pressures. The curriculum committee will work to develop and implement a coherent and coordinated curriculum in which there is logical sequencing of various segments of the curriculum, coordination within and across the academic periods of study, and appropriate methods of pedagogy and evaluation to meet the overall educational objectives of the School of Medicine. The curriculum committee will effectively manage the curriculum by evaluating program effectiveness, monitoring content and workload in each discipline and reviewing objectives of courses and clerkships to assure congruence with overall School of Medicine objectives. Consultant members on the Curriculum Committee and on the Subcommittees are voting members.

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE EVALUATION COMMITTEE

Members of the UHHS Medical Staff and other privileged providers are involved in activities to measure, assess, and improve performance on an ongoing, organization-wide basis. Medical staff members and other privileged providers must render high quality patient care and demonstrate competent professional performance, sound judgment, clinical and technical skills, ethical integrity and participate in medical education opportunities that may benefit their patients and patient care processes. It is the policy of the Medical Staff to encourage and support peer review. In order to promote consistency of the peer review process, the Medical Staff has established the Professional Practice Evaluation Council (PPEC) to oversee all committees that conduct peer review activities under the auspices of the Medical Staff Bylaws of University Hospitals and Health System. The Hospital and Medical Staff intend to protect peer review proceedings and findings to the fullest extent of the law. (Miss. Code Ann. §41-63-1, §41-63-3, §41-63-5, §41-63-9).
